

BEHAVIOUR FOR LEARNING POLICY

This policy has been adopted by the Governing Body
December 2017

Rationale

The Education Reform Act 1988 defines the purpose of the school curriculum as promoting:-

'The spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development of pupils and preparing them for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of adult life'.

The Education Reform Act 1999

A school requires accepted codes of conduct and rules of procedure upon which to run at a practical level, but there is a need to promote responsible behaviour and self-discipline and an understanding of how one's behaviour affects others and the community in which they function should that be the family, class, school or neighbourhood.

The school's ethos must:

- recognise that good relationships are a fundamental pre-requisite of safe behaviours.
- aim to develop an acceptance and recognition of responsibility for the children's actions.
- see safe behaviours including on-line safety as an essential condition for effective teaching and learning and is a criteria upon which the school will be judged.

Good relationships within school are characterised by:-

- mutual respect.
- a willingness to listen, understand and respond.
- pupils recognising the value of others and themselves.
- positive expectations
- encouraging thoughtfulness and sensitivity for others.

The school, in meeting these goals, will work closely with parents, governors, the local community and the support agencies of the local authority

Aims

Our school is committed to providing:

- A supportive learning environment where everyone can feel safe, happy, and valued as part of the Pearl Hyde Community School family.
- A very high standard of behaviour across the school community where each individual is treated with the utmost care and worthy of respect.
- Optimal achievement where academic success and inclusive attitudes are celebrated.

GUIDANCE

This policy should be read in conjunction with the DFE guidance: Behaviour and Discipline in Schools issued in February 2014 which can be found at:

<http://www.nationalarchives.gov.uk/doc/open-government-licence> the school follows the principles and recommendations set out in this guidance.

To be effective in living out the aims Staying On Green – Our green Code Of Conduct is embedded throughout school. Members of the school community were pivotal in its implementation.

Purpose:

- All children have the opportunity to make positive choices about their behaviour and influence outcomes.
- Children who regularly follow the rules are noticed and rewarded.
- All adults within school take a consistent approach to promote safe behaviour and effective behaviour management skills.
- High expectations of behaviour and routines are taught to the children.

Our Green Code of Conduct

Expectations of behaviour are conveyed through Our Green Code Of Conduct which is displayed in all classrooms, in assemblies and around the school. Teachers regularly revisit the Code of Conduct and refer to it in their daily teaching.

Where children adhere to this, we refer to them demonstrating 'Green Behaviour.'

Caring We care for each other, our things and the world around us. 		Being responsible We do our best to make the right choices.
 Learning We always try to do our best.	 Communication We listen and talk to each other politely.	 Being safe We think before we act.

How Staying On Green works

In each classroom, the children's photographs are displayed on the Staying On Green board. At the start of every morning and afternoon session, the children's photograph will be placed on the green part of the board unless they have already been moved to Bronze, Silver, or Gold where they remain. The aim is for all children to demonstrate Green behaviour and to remain on the green part of the board. Those children that are 'on green' at the end of the session, will receive a Green Point which goes towards a weekly class total for their class.

Collecting Green Points

At the start of the week, the class teacher will share the classes weekly Green Point Target with the children. This will vary depending on a range of factors including, the age of the children and class size. At the end of each morning and afternoon session, the teacher will count how many pupils are on Green and each will be awarded a point, going towards the weekly class target.

In addition, throughout the day, any adult in school may reward the children with Green Points for demonstrating Green Behaviour as outlined in the Green Code of Conduct. This allows all staff to reward children demonstrating good behaviour within school and helps to reinforce our high expectations of behaviour.

At the end of the week, the number of green points will be totalled up. Where the target has been reached, the whole class will be rewarded. This reward will be determined by the class teacher and the children. It could be 'Golden Time' in or out of the classroom, or the children may agree collectively on a reward e.g. an additional sports activity, cooking, or using the iPads.

Rewards and Sanctions (Consequences)

When deciding upon the types of Rewards and Sanctions (consequences) to be used, children were consulted for their opinions and the following was agreed:

Rewards

For those pupils who continue to demonstrate Green behaviour over a period of time they are rewarded by moving onto Bronze, Silver, Gold. When this happens, children are given a sticker and certificate of the appropriate colour, during the Celebration Assembly.

Children told us they would also like to be rewarded with additional points to go towards the class total.

Children also receive the following points:

Bronze – 2 points.

Silver – 3 points

Gold – 5 points.

Sanctions / Consequences

If pupils are unable to demonstrate green behaviour, they will be given a verbal warning, referring back to the Code of Conduct. If undesirable behaviour continues, they will be moved to blue. At least one verbal warning is always provided for pupils in between each stage. Teachers constantly help pupils make the right choices to move their card back to the green circles and beyond. Children should be moved back onto green at the earliest opportunity.

The following colours are consequences:

Blue Warning

Yellow Warning

Red Reflection Time in the classroom away from the group (1-11 mins – depending on the age of the child it is recommend that a child would have 1 minute time out for each year of their age).

Those children, who are not on green at the end of the session, will not receive their green point to contribute to the class weekly total. Following discussions with the children, they asked that those not on Green should lose a minute from their reward time, every time they do not contribute to the class total.

Further consequences

If after going onto Red, the child's behaviour is not in line with the Green Code of Conduct, there will be further consequences:

1. Send the child to another adult to give them a message as an agreed strategy for time out - 'Mr/Mrs The answer to your question is yes' – the child then returns to class.

Once the child has returned to class they move back to the yellow card and are encouraged to make the right choices to return to green as quickly as possible.

2. Reflection Time in partner class with reflection sheet.

Once the child has returned to class they move back to the yellow card and are encouraged to make the right choices to return to green as quickly as possible.

3. Time out to reflect in designated Pearl Spaces in each phase . Some children will be issued with 'Pearl' cards for time out. (appendix 2)

Once the child has returned to class they move back to the yellow card and are encouraged to make the right choices to return to green as quickly as possible

Help Card – if the situation becomes unsafe or unmanageable a child is sent to a member of SLT with the RED HELP CARD from their base.

4. Senior Leadership Team involvement

Incidents are recorded on the child's profile on the CPOMS system. The Senior Leadership Team will assess the incident and decide on an appropriate consequence. This may include contacting parents /carers.

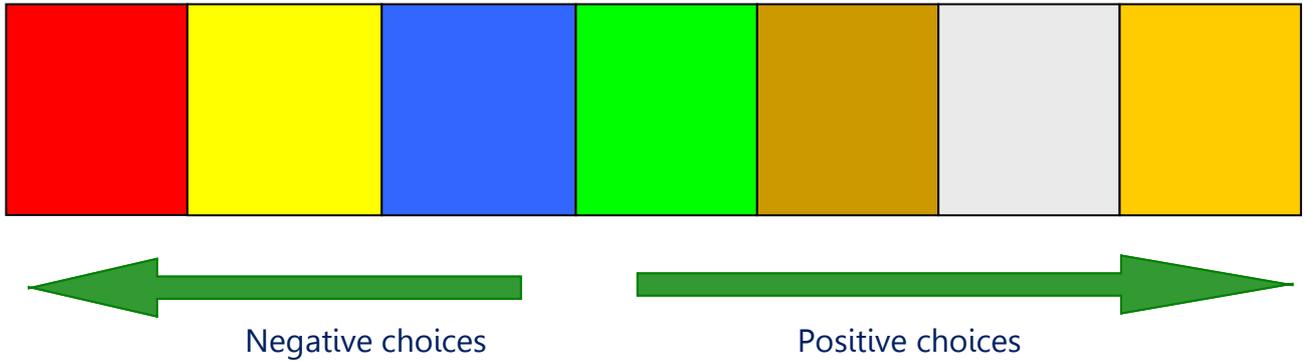

A home school contract to support learning may need to be drawn up in consultation with child, parent/carer and class teacher. (appendix 3)

Depending on the nature of the behaviour and the duration of the same types of behaviour being exhibited the decision may be an internal exclusion for a time decided by the Headteacher in consultation with class teachers.

There are some behaviours considered to be so serious that exclusion from school may be the only course of action. This occurs in very rare situations.

5. Team Teach

Pearl Hyde teaching and teaching support staff, including the headteacher and deputy head teacher, is qualified to use Team Teach in situations that arise when a child is putting themselves or others at risk. This is a nationally recognised qualification in the reduction of risk, restraint and restriction. It is the last resort in our school when all other avenues have been tried to calm a situation and not undertaken lightly.

Playtime and Lunch time

Our systems are underpinned with the message of 'safe 'play' 'safe behaviours'.

Lunchtime session operates a 'zoned' playground space which is transferred to the field when the weather permits. These zones have been organised to provide 'safe play' areas for the children; each zone is marked with a standing sign. In addition to the activity zones there is also a 'bumps and bruises' first aid point and a 'Pit Stop' point for time out. Time out can be used by the children themselves if they need to have a chat with someone or used when directed by an adult if any child is engaging in unsafe play.

At each morning break for KS1 and KS2 and afternoon break for KS1 the 'Bumps and Bruises' and 'Pit Stop' points are operated.

Green points are awarded during break and lunch times. 'Safe Play' certificates are given to children selected by the adults on duty and by the School Playground Leaders at lunch times.

Roles and Responsibilities

At Pearl Hyde Primary School, we believe that all staff, parents and carers share responsibility for managing and promoting behaviour for learning. In this way, children realise that the way they behave is of importance to everyone.

All children are expected to:

- Treat others as they would like to be treated, be caring and considerate towards others, and respect each other's personal space.
- Work hard and to the best of their ability at all times.
- Make positive contributions to class discussions and value differing points of view; take responsibility for their learning and ask if they do not understand.
- Listen carefully whilst other children and adults are talking; respond promptly and politely to peers, teachers, teaching assistants, lunchtime supervisors and all other adults who work in our school from time to time.
- Work sensibly with other children in the classroom; talk quietly and do not interrupt.
- Behave sensibly and in an orderly fashion when moving around the school; look after personal belongings; take good care of the school environment; tidy away equipment.
- Take responsibility for their actions and the potential for resulting consequences.
- Take responsibility for keeping themselves safe on-line and always inform an adult if they have any concerns for themselves or others regarding online activity.
- Know how they are expected to behave and understand the consequences of their behaviour and attitude to learning

All staff are expected to:

- Use the agreed hand signal to indicate the children are to stop what they are doing. The children also raise their hands. Only when all children are mirroring the hand signal can the adult lower theirs and give the instruction. The adult must not speak with the hand raised.
- Undertake duties in a professional manner; provide support and encouragement to each other in accordance with the policies and procedures of the school.
- Make explicit in a constructive and positive way the behaviour expected of children; use a language of choice and consequence. Weave into the dialogue the phrase 'behaviour/s for learning'.
- Use language about making the right choice when dealing with less than expected behaviour.
- Be firm without being confrontational; handle situations with a degree of warmth and concern.
- Provide praise and encouragement for learners; offer challenge and highlight their achievements.
- Work closely with parents/carers in a discreet and pro-active manner.
- All staff present good role-models of behaviour and manage behaviour in a fair and consistent manner.
- Class teachers endeavour to ensure that their children behave well at all times, following the Code of Conduct, even when they are not present.
- Staff record significant incidents of behaviour / racist incidents / cyber bullying and any other behaviours deemed to be a concern on the CPOMS system which is monitored and reviewed by the Head Teacher daily.
- Higher Level Teaching Assistants, Teaching Assistants, and Midday Supervisors and any other adult member of the school community, support the teaching staff in the above.
- The Headteacher will be responsible for ensuring that this policy is implemented and for reporting to the governing body on its impact.

Parents and Carers are expected to:

- Parents and carers play a vital role in promoting good behaviour and attitudes to learning in school and so effective home/school liaison is very important. Parents and carers will uphold the all policies and Home-School agreements in partnership with the school. (see appendix 1 and 3)
- We expect parents and carers to behave in a reasonable and civil manner towards all members of the school community. Incidents of verbal or physical aggression towards staff, parents/carers or children by parents/carers of children in the school will be reported to the Headteacher, who will take appropriate action. Consequences of this may include receiving a ban from the school site.
- We expect parents and carers to support the actions of the school when consequences are imposed. If they have any questions regarding behaviour, they should initially contact the class teacher.
- Parent/carers will communicate with school directly as outlined in line with school policies regarding any complaints or issues. In the first instance communication will be with the class teacher.

Governors are expected to:

- The Governing Body has the responsibility of setting down general guidelines on standards of behaviour and of reviewing the effectiveness of the policy.
- The Governors will support the Headteacher through monitoring and supporting the policy and evaluating its impact.

Supporting Children with Additional Needs

Whilst Staying on Green is implemented throughout the whole school, for some of our pupils this behaviour system may not be appropriate, or may need adapting.

For those children for whom this is the case, parents/carers will be contacted and adjustments to the system or an individual system for that child will be put into place e.g. behaviour chart, home school link diary for these children, the provision they receive will be outlined on the school Provision Map.

Should additional advice be required to support a child with their behaviour in school, outside agencies such as LAWSS (Learning and Well-being Support Service), E.P. (Educational Psychologist) or CIASS (Communication and Interaction (including Autism) Support Service) may be contacted. In these cases, parents will always be consulted prior to this taking place.

Bullying and Racist incidents

Incidences of racism bullying will not be tolerated and will be dealt with very seriously in accordance with the school's Anti-Bullying Policy. All incidences of bullying and racism are recorded on the CPOMS system. School is required to report any racist incidences to the Local Authority.

Exclusion

The most serious measure for dealing with such incidents is exclusion. Under Sections 23-28 of the Education (No. 2) Act 1986 procedures are set out in the Articles of Governance. In most cases fixed or permanent exclusion will be the last resort after a range of measures have been tried to improve the pupil's behaviour. A decision to exclude a child for a fixed period may be taken in response to breaches of the school's behaviour policy, including persistent disruptive behaviour. If this occurs parents/carers may be asked to remove their child for a specific, short term period while intervention strategies are put in place to help the child improve. Exclusions whether fixed term or permanent can only be imposed by the Headteacher or in his/her absence a designated representative, usually the Deputy Headteacher.

If a child is excluded for a period of less than 5 days school will provide work – it is the parent / carers responsibility to ensure the child completes the work and returns it to the school for marking (NB parents can be fined if their child is found in a public place during an exclusion).

From Day 6 of exclusion, temporary alternative arrangements for schooling will be made for the child. In the event of a permanent exclusion the LA will contact parents/carers with details of the Day 6 provision.

Behaviour beyond the school gate

Children are expected to uphold the reputation of the school whenever they are out of school whether they are taking part in an official school trip/outing, wearing school uniform to and from school or during social activities away from school e.g. at the weekend. Children may be subject to disciplinary sanctions if their behaviour brings the school into disrepute or has repercussions for the orderly running of the school.

Pearl Hyde Primary School cannot be responsible for pupil behaviour when they are out of school but will endeavour to investigate any incident which is reported to the school.

Monitoring and Review

The success of the school's Behaviour for Learning Policy and provision is evaluated through school self-evaluation and reporting activities such as:

- Monitoring of classroom practice by the Leadership Team (including the Headteacher).
- Analysis of tracking data for individual children and for cohorts (class and individual logs).
- Pupil Progress Meetings.
- Analysis of exclusions data.
- The School Development Plan (SDP), which is used for planning and monitoring provision within the School.
- Feedback from children, parents and staff and Governing Body, both informal and formal (including meetings and surveys).

Strategies to support children who demonstrate the need to have 'time out' or 'chunked' learning time

Break out spaces, Pearl Space, set up in each phase or within your classroom for those children requiring 'time out'.

Below are some strategies which can help facilitate this specific intervention; they can be an effective tool for children to self-monitor their behaviour and learning time.

- ❖ Class teachers will need to 'teach' children how to use the Pearl Space if it is felt they are presenting as a one who appears to need to leave a lesson, or have 'coming down' time. Clear structures and rule systems must be in place and fully explained on regular occasions with the child. Parents should also be informed as some of the strategies could be adapted at home.
- ❖ To access the Pearl Space the child must give the class teacher or adult in the room a Pearl Card. Master copies are in the Inclusion Referral forms folder in the staff room.
- ❖ The class teacher may also decide to use a Pearl Card if a child appears to need time out.
- ❖ The child has maximum of 3 cards for a morning and 3 cards for an afternoon. Once the 3 cards for a morning or afternoon session have been used up they may not access the Pearl Space. This must be made clear to the pupil. Research has shown that there has been good success using this strategy. Children who have used systems like this have developed self-moderation of behaviours and not over used the cards.
- ❖ The Pearl Spaces should have a timer and an age appropriate set of activities if needed to help them in this process. The time out is defined by the age of the child 1 minute per year e.g. age 5 = 5 minutes. The children will need to be taught to come back to class once the timer has run out. Using a timer helps the pupil to use time effectively.
- ❖ On return to the class they continue with their work, there should be no need to discuss the reasons why they used the card but be praised for using the Pearl Space. It may be that a discussion is had at the end of the lesson to remind the child about expected behaviours. This is at the discretion of the teacher; the aim of the strategy is to get the child back on track with learning as quickly as possible with the minimum amount of distraction for the rest of the class.
- ❖ No children are allowed to 'opt out' of lessons without using a 'Pearl Card'.
- ❖ Finally should you need support from another adult due to difficulties with a child please use the 'HELP' card.
